

Russian Orthodox Church will be built in Kabul

According to the edition, veteran organizations of soldiers who fought in Afghanistan and other sponsors will participate in the building. The Rosstrudnichestvo federal agency is going to back up the project.

“We have to coordinate this question with church officials and some other instances. This good undertaking looks quite realizable”, – Rosstrudnichestvo representative in Afghanistan Vyachaslav Nekrasov said.

The church will be built from Siberian pine. Today there is only small home church in the embassy.

The only thing that can interrupt the building process is military situation in Afghanistan, sources in Rosstrudnichestvo say adding that “peculiarities of the Muslim country” will be also considered.
